And he said to them, "Doubtless you will quote to me this proverb, 'Physician, heal yourself.' What we have heard you did at Capernaum, do here in your hometown as well."

A painting of Jesus Christ in a white robe, surrounded by a crowd of people in traditional attire. The scene is set in a town, likely Nazareth, as indicated by the text. Jesus is the central figure, looking towards the viewer with a calm expression. He is wearing a white tunic and a white shawl draped over his shoulders. His right hand is extended, palm up, in a gesture of blessing or teaching. The background shows other people in various colored robes (brown, blue, white) and a simple, rustic setting.

And he said, "Truly, I say to you, no prophet is acceptable in his hometown.

Luke 4:25

But in truth, I tell you, there were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the heavens were shut up three years and six months, and a great famine came over all the land,
